

Haliburton fire destroys 4 stores

by John Greenwood

Investigators are still searching for the cause of a fire that destroyed four buildings and left eight people homeless in the Village of Haliburton on Sunday. The blaze - some firemen are calling it the county's worst in 25 years - began on the second floor of Stedman's department store sometime before 1 p.m. and spread to Frost Insurance, Stedman's Toy store and Highlands Health Foods. Damage is estimated at more than two million dollars.

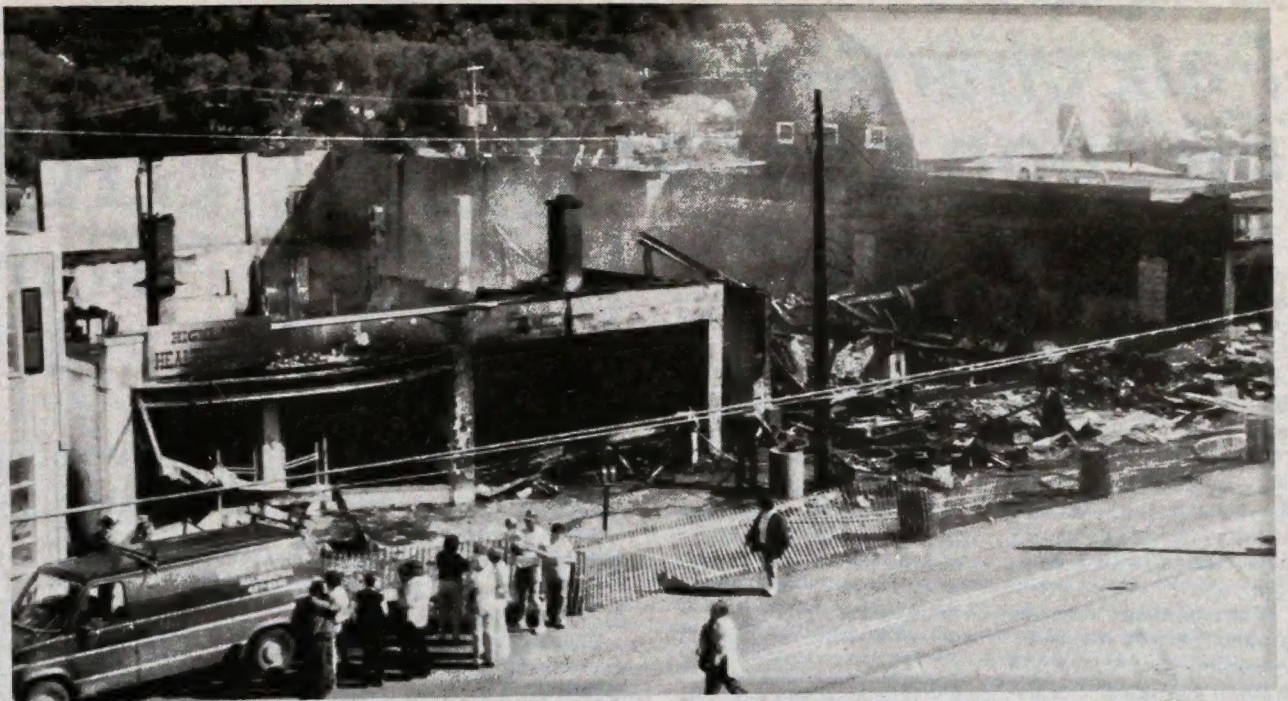

There were no serious injuries.

Fire fighting crews from across the county were called in and equipment from the Ministry of Natural Resources was put to work as well. By 4:30 p.m. the blaze was under control (though the rubble was still being hosed down by Tuesday morning.)

Dysart fire chief Mike Stinson said the distance between the fire and the water source was a problem for his men. "When you're pumping water as far as 800 feet, you lose a lot of volume." The Anson, Hindon and Minden fire department, said Stinson, had to set up two of their pumps in a single line.

Firemen were also hampered by a strong wind (more on page 5)

A gaping, blackened hole is all that remains of four businesses destroyed in a Sunday afternoon fire in downtown Haliburton. Fire departments from throughout the county assisted the Dysart firefighters in finally bringing the conflagration under control. For more pictures please turn to page 5.

Elliott resigns from committee

A six year veteran of the Minden Recreation Committee, Dean Elliott, has resigned from that municipally appointed body and there are reports that other members of the committee could follow the same course of action within the week.

Elliott submitted his resignation in a letter to the municipality on Friday. It was effective immediately.

He told The Times he was resigning from the committee because he felt the township council was no longer interested in supporting the efforts of the recreation committee. "It has become increasingly apparent that the present council has little interest in continuing with certain committees, including recreation," he said. "I don't feel I can continue to make a worthwhile contribution to the municipality through membership on the committee."

He indicated that it appeared to be the position of the present council that the recreation committee was either not needed or should only operate in an advisory capacity. "I find it

Province plans major lake study

The Ontario Government is about to undertake a major study of acid rain and other kinds of pollution in the province's inland lakes, Environment Minister Jim Bradley announced Friday.

Speaking at a news conference in Dorset, the minister said the study, which focuses mainly on the Muskoka and Kawartha Lakes, will try to identify sources of pollution. The purpose of all the research is to develop specific clean up programs for each polluted lake. A timetable for the study or clean up was not given.

The value of Ontario's lakes as sources of fresh water and for tourism, Mr. Bradley said, is too great to allow them to die.

Jean Anthon, president of the Federation of Ontario Cottagers' Associations (FOCA), said she is pleased with the plan. "It's another step on the road to pollution control."

Previously, Mrs. Anthon explained, pollution studies have been fragmented and haven't centred on specific lakes. "This will be the first time research results have been co-ordinated and the first time they (the Ontario Government) have taken (Lakes Muskoka, Rosseau, Joseph and Lake of Bays.)

All receive large amounts of acid rain, sewage from surrounding towns and cottages, chemical fertilizers and pesticides contained in agricultural runoff, and industrial waste.

Pair charged after raccoon shot at dump

Two Scarborough residents have been charged under the Fish and Game Act with unlawfully hunting a furbearing animal out of season and using a light to hunt. The maximum fine for each count is $5,000.

The charges arose out of an incident at the Kennisis Lake dump where two individuals were seen shooting at a raccoon with a pellet gun.

The incident occurred around 9:30 p.m. August 19. According to a Ministry of Natural Resources Conservation Officer, several individuals at the dump reported that two people were shooting at raccoons using a pellet gun. The dump, located at the entrance to the Haliburton Forest and Wildlife Reserve in Havelock Township, is a popular location for individuals to observe bears and other animals rummaging through the garbage.

After the authorities were alerted, two constables with the Minden detachment of the OPP, Mike Maher and Al Barnes, located two individuals camped at the access point between Kennisis and Little Kennisis Lake. The pair were arrested by the officers who seized two pellet guns, a spot light and a 1986 Toyota truck. The truck was subsequently returned after witnesses had identified the vehicle as being the one driven by the individuals involved in the incident at the dump.

Also involved in the investigation of the incident are Conservation Officers Dan Smith and Bob Gater.

Charged in the incident are Kenneth Gibb and Paul Lighthead, both in their early 20's and both from Scarborough.

C.O. Gater said that the pellet gun seized in the incident was probably not powerful enough to kill the raccoon, unless used at very close range. However, he pointed out that the pellets fired from the gun would likely puncture the skin of the animal causing pain and suffering.

Dorset acid rain report

The following report on precipitation at the Ontario Ministry of Environment acid rain testing station at Dorset was compiled by Environment Canada. A single precipitation event was recorded during the past reporting period.

- on August 20, 2 mm of rain was recorded at the station with a pH of 3.9. The rainfall was traced from New York State and southern Ontario.

- Environmental damage is usually observed in sensitive areas regularly receiving precipitation with pH less than 4.7. Readings of 4.0 pH or less are considered dangerous. The lower the reading, the more acidic the precipitation.

futile to carry on under those circumstances," he commented.

As a former chairman of the recreation committee and vice chairman prior to his resignation, Elliott indicated that the exclusion of any recreation committee member from the group created to oversee the construction of the new addition to the community centre, was the final event which triggered his action. However, he said that it had been apparent since the new council took office that a reduced role was being sought for the recreation committee by the township council.

Elliott predicted that the recreation committee would become merely an advisory body to council whereas in the past it was actively involved in the management of recreation facilities in the municipality. He said he could not continue to work under those changes.

The Minden resident said the committee had worked well in the past, overseeing improvements to the community centre and most recently introducing a summer activity program. He pointed out that in the past seven years there had been no increase in the budget covering the operation of the community centre, a point which he said indicated good management by the committee and the employees at the arena.

Elliott, contacted Tuesday morning, refused to comment on stories circulating that at least one other member of the committee was considering submitting his resignation as well. "I can only speak for myself at this time," he told The Times.

As of press time The Times was unable to contact the chairman of the seven member recreation committee, Larry Kent, for a comment. It is understood that the recreation committee is expected to meet with members of council Thursday to discuss the expansion planned for the community centre.

Cottagers throughout the province will benefit from the study, she said, because the research can be applied to their own lakes. "My only concern is that no Haliburton County lakes are being looked at."

Called the Inland Lakes Management Program, the study will be divided into six parts and co-ordinated from the Ministry's Dorset

Research Centre. Major aspects of the program include:

- a study of the four largest Muskoka Lakes primary source of nutrients).

- the development of a scientific model to determine the effect on a lake of more cottages and growing towns along the shore.

- a study of excessive nutrient levels in Rice and Sturgeon Lakes in the Kawarthas.

Mr. Bradley said the Inland Lakes Program will be carried out in co-operation with the municipalities and cottagers' associations.

A worthwhile contribution

It would be unfortunate if the municipality would lose the services of its recreation committee as it is now operating. The resignation of one of its members appears to point to some discord between members of the council and the committee, discord that could lead to further resignations.

While we admit the township council has the prerogative to shape the municipality to meet its expectations, we think careful consideration should be given before committees, which involve citizens in the decision-making process, should be disbanded or altered.

The recreation committee has been actively involved in the management of the municipality's recreational facilities. Steady improvements and upgrading at the arena, for example, have resulted in a facility that barely shows its age. Careful budgeting by the committee has eliminated the need for increases in financial support for the generation of the community centre. The introduction of youth activity programs this past summer, under the direction of recreation committee members, has added a new and much appreciated facet to their effort.

But more important than all these accomplishments is, we feel, the involvement of the community's citizens, some with special talents to offer, that could be lost if the committee is restructured or disbanded. This community has been well served by this volunteer committee, hopefully their effort and expertise will not be lost in a simple change for change sake.

Fire support

While strong winds played a major contributing factor in fanning the blaze which wiped out four businesses and three apartments on Haliburton's main street Sunday, residents of the community must wonder if the lack of a municipal water system might not have hampered the firefighter's efforts. Had the blaze been any farther removed from Head Lake or had the complications of winter conditions added to the problems faced by the firemen, the results could have been more serious. The tragic outcome of the fire on Sunday should lead to increased pressure for a municipally operated water system and the attendant additional fire protection.

Editor:

I am angry enough to cancel my subscription to your newspaper, but on sober second thought, I have decided against it because I have been a reader since the days of 'Mac' MacArthur when our only local paper was the Minden Echo, published weekly in Minden for an annual subscription price of $1.25.

I am an owner, along with my brother and sisters, of a property on Lake Kashagawigamog in Ingoldsby which my father, Harold H. Hill, purchased in 1929, and which we subsequently named Pine Point.

Prior to us giving it a name, the property was known simply as Hill's Beach. That you, Mr. Editor, should write an editorial based on erroneous information from relative newcomers to the area without ascertaining the facts, is inexcusable in my opinion, and a sad commentary on the honourable profession of investigative reporting.

Admittedly our beach is a good beach. That is why my father purchased it and struggled to pay the taxes on it through the Depression years of the hungry thirties. However, we are the owners and the only owners, of the land between the road and the lakeshore allowance. Our application is no different than those granted to hundreds of others throughout the County of Haliburton.

Long before it became possible to purchase that part of the lakeshore allowance not covered by water, common law held that the owner of adjoining land had control of that lakeshore allowance. If this were not the case, buyers of lakeshore property would not now be paying up to $300.00 per foot for it, resulting in, at least, a reduction of 50% in the tax base of this municipality.

In conclusion Mr. Editor, the intent of our application is simply to provide some peace of mind and privacy for a property which we own and have been paying rather high taxes on. It is not our intent to deny a refreshing swim on a hot day to local residents, nor is it the intent of council to convey land which would deny access to the lake.

Yours very truly,
John P. Hill.

Editor:

Several weeks ago, when I went for my regular drinking water run to the spring on the highway above Maple Lake, I found myself enraged by the amount of garbage around the site. There were beer cans, fast food containers, ripped open garbage bags, an ash sifter full of broken up concrete with bits of concrete thrown all around...The list goes on and on. As I filled the two cardboard boxes that were amongst the debris, making a small dent in the pile, I was brought to cooler reflection.

This spring and the others like it are a blessing. The water is freely given by the earth and the folks who saw fit to put it on the pipes that make it convenient. In ancient times, springs were considered sacred and were often connected with shrines dedicated to gods and more recently, to saints. In these times, when our water supply is endangered by visible pollutants and minuscule ratios of chemical contaminants with far reaching effects on the life forms of this planet, I would suggest that these deeply filtered, clean water supplies be seen again as sacred and be honoured by those that come for this water.

Each year at this time, some among us come "under siege". Seeming clouds of "black birds" congregate each evening to roost, often in small, wooded groves, to cackle and screech far into the evening.

Ontario actually has 5 common blackbirds - starlings and grackles as well as red-winged, rusty and Brewer's blackbirds. Although the species share similar colouration, they are altogether different birds. 'Red-wings', whose males bear the colourful shoulder patches, are migratory wetland birds; they're important most of the year in eating pest insects and weed seeds. So are the rusty and Brewer's blackbirds, both confined pretty much to northern Ontario.

Grackles are the big, iridescent-black birds with long tails and yellow eyes. Like red-wings, they eat both animal and seed material, but are upland birds which also migrate - usually in loose or small flocks. Starlings - the cause of most irritation - appear blackish, but are heavily marked with little streaks of white and brown. Non-native birds introduced in the 1980's, they don't migrate, although they do move around to spots which afford the best food, breeding locales in summer and warmth in winter.

Starting in August, both red-wings and starlings begin to congregate into large numbers. Red-wings do so in large marshes, often roosting in nearby rows of trees. Starlings congregate in more protected spots - particularly around cities where we humans provide abundant food (fat, fast-food and in garbage), nesting locales (myriad holes in walls, attics and concrete hydro poles) and protection from most predators. Starlings may have raised 3 broods of 4 young each - that's 14 birds including adults. Starlings' early roosts are generally in large trees - especially where housing developments have been built in woodlots.

Small roosts may have only 10 - 15 birds, but many number into the hundreds by late summer. Although it's not clearly known what makes starlings gather in these roosts, or to choose a specific spot, their congregation high-up suggests that this may be an effective defense against would-be predators. (Think of a school of fish, any member of which is almost impossible to catch as the school swirls and twirls.) Positioning in a dense canopy may also provide warmth against increasingly chilly nights, by acting as an umbrella in slowing the upward flow of heat.

Each evening, the birds

Fire rages for over 3 hours

which fanned the flames and blew the smoke from the fire back into the street.

"We were lucky to stop the fire when we did," said Minden fire chief Don Booth. "Those buildings are all very old and there were no fire walls in between to break the flames." Booth compared the blaze to the fire in Minden that burned down three buildings on Main Street 23 years ago.

Fire crews eventually managed to contain the fire at the Radio Shack store on one side and at the Village Shop on the other.

Dysart et al deputy reeve Bill Davis estimates between 30 and 40 jobs will be lost as a result of the fire. "It's a major economic blow to Haliburton."

Vince Connaughan, owner of Stedmans, the toy store annexe and Family Fashions, said he lost about $1.5 million worth of property. He intends to rebuild as soon as possible.

One of the tenants of the burned apartments, Eddie Duke, said he lost all his possessions in the fire. "I wasn't around when it started, but my wife was. A man told her to get out of the apartment and she wanted to take some stuff, but the man said the fire wouldn't make it that far. So we left everything."

Duke and his wife had planned to move to another apartment next week. He also had a job at one of the destroyed businesses.

Lorne Campbell, owner of Highlands Health Foods, was one of the first to see the smoke. "I was just about to leave the store in my car when I saw smoke from Stedmans in my rear view window. My first thought was for my part time help." He got to the store and got her out quickly.

Campbell said he didn't think the fire would reach his business at first, but took all the cash and records out anyway. "There was just smoke for the first 20 minutes, and then the roof opened up. The firemen were there by then, but the flames were out of control. They did the best they could to save our block, but failing that, they did the best they could by stopping it at the Village Shop."

A new business, the health food store had, said Campbell's wife Linda, "just got going. We were starting to do well and the store was packed up to the ceiling with stock." The Campbells say they intend to start up again as soon as possible.

Over 500 people watched as the blaze demolished an important part of Haliburton Village. The mood of the spectators, many people commented, was one of disappointment and sympathy for those who lost property.

Anson, Hindon and Minden fire chief Don Booth said he believes firefighters would have an easier time if a bad fire broke out in Minden. "With a system of firehydrants, as the village has, it's much easier to get more water on to the flames quickly."

Asked if Haliburton would ever install fire hydrants, Dysart fire chief Stinson said he thought the issue might come up in council soon.

The community's response to the tragic blaze has been immediate. Owners of the destroyed businesses report assistance offered from all quarters, so much so that thoughts of reconstruction have quickly replaced the consternation with the loss.

Vince Connaughan said that insurance adjusters were on the scene Sunday with further inspections carried out on Monday. The Fire Marshall has inspected the ruins and already bids from contractors are being called to clean up the mess left behind by the fire. Connaughan said he was grateful for the co-operation of all concerned in the period following the fire.

The community has also responded to the needs of the families which were left homeless by the blaze. A search is currently underway for accommodation and furnishings for the three families. The Lily Ann 4-C's Christian Centre in Haliburton is co-ordinating the search and the acquisition of these necessities. Those wishing to donate goods or who are aware of possible accommodations should contact John Smith at the 4 C's, the number is 457-3331. (Contributors are being asked not to bring furniture and large items to the Maple Street centre. Storage space for these items is not available at this location. You are asked to call and let the staff know what you have available.)

The merchants of the community have also opened their hearts to the fire victims. Numerous stores have contributed merchandise for the families. A cash collection is also underway. Large jars are located at most Haliburton retail outlets. Your cash contributions will be welcomed in these jars. The jars will be cleared next Tuesday. Donations of money to assist the families can be mailed to Doris Nash and Wanda Byers at Box 374, Haliburton.

from the chamber

by Shawn Hagerman

It was with regret that we accepted the resignation of Dennis Casey the Senior Project Officer for The Outreach Center. Dennis has done an excellent job of ensuring that the C.E.I.C.'s Outreach Programs were met. To quote Bob Frosse, the Outreach consultant for the Ontario region, "It is my perception that Dennis's administrative skills and dedication have made a significant contribution to the project."

All Chamber members and especially the Board of Directors would like to thank Dennis for the work that he has put in over the past two years. The task of finding someone to replace him will begin immediately, with the hopes that a replacement will be found by early this fall.

The Chamber is fortunate that the Outreach Center has capable and experienced staff, who will maintain the full services of the office. Valerie Burch, who many in the community know and Pat Clarkson will keep the office open and all the needed services will be continued.

Darlene Petis, our other senior employee, will be returning from a leave of absence early in November. We are very fortunate that Darlene and Valerie, both long term senior employees will be able to keep the centre open and running smoothly.

We would also like to thank Ann Martino for a job well done over these past few months, and to wish her well in her new position with the Development Corporation.

The Outreach Center as we all know will remain a Chamber of Commerce project. We have just signed a three year contract with the Canadian Employment and Immigration Commission, which runs until March of 1989. This agreement is a significant step forward over the previous year by year renewal of The Outreach Center, and reaffirms the C.E.I.C.'s confidence in the Chamber to successfully maintain this program.

(Intended for last week)

I was down by the lake the other day enjoying the warm water and hot sun when I was suddenly struck with the thought that in two months Thanksgiving would be over. This important point luckily has not been missed by the Chamber, as the various promotions for the fall and winter go into full swing.

We start the fall promotion with a week at the Eaton Centre, beginning August 25 to August 30. We have obtained a booth in a good location with over 200 slides depicting Haliburton Highlands as a four seasons playground. It gives business an opportunity to promote the fall and winter aspects of your business. If you would like to spend a day and help Shirley at the booth please give her a call before Friday.

On the Thanksgiving weekend the Chamber will out again in full force at the Ski Show at the automotive Centre in Toronto. This has proven an excellent opportunity to promote your business in an already selected target market. If you are interested in sending your brochures or helping out please let the Chamber office know as soon as possible.

Finally the preparations for our winter activities map are almost complete. The Chamber of Commerce map together with the Central Ontario Travel Association winter map will have a distribution of over 70,000. This year we will be emphasizing the wide range of winter activities available in the county, including skiing, snowmobiling, ice fishing and lots of other events and activities. It has been assured by ALCOM that the maps will be ready for the ski show in early October.

PineStone marks tenth anniversary

The PineStone Inn and Country Club has long been a landmark for travellers to Haliburton along Highway 121. This Sunday, it will mark ten years of business with an open house that will include free food, musical entertainment and fireworks for the public.

As told by the president of PineStone Inn, Wren Blair, the idea for a hotel goes back to 1969, when Mr. Blair and partner Jim Gregory were running the Haliburton Hockey Haven. The hockey school was among the best in the country and attracted instructors from the NHL.

The two men bought a small farm on Lake Kashagawigamog in order to build seven cottages to house the NHL instructors.

Blair and Gregory noticed that a section of the farm on the other side of the South Kashagawigamog Road rose high on a hill. They subdivided this region into country home lots, then turned their attention to the small lake that rested beside Highway 121 and now has been expanded to form a part of the PineStone complex.

"We decided it was time the Haliburton area had a good resort hotel that was year-round, as opposed to merely a lodge," explained Mr. Blair. An adjacent landowner, Art Ward of the Wig-a-Mog Inn, saw merit in the idea, along with two cousins of Mr. Blair, Glen Blair and Leigh Blair. The five men together formed a company for the purpose of building and running the future hotel.

The company was suitably named "One Two One Corporation" after the highway fronting their property, Mr. Blair explained. With the addition of a golfing pro from the Oakville Golf and Country Club, Jack Davison, the group called "the original six" was complete.

Loans from the Ontario Development Corporation and several banks, along with the group's own savings, paid for the construction of the PineStone Inn. Work commenced on 36 hotel rooms, conference rooms, an outdoor pool and a nine hole golf course late in 1974 and ended in time for the Labour Day, 1976, grand opening.

The growth did not stop there, according to Mr. Blair, who explained that an expansion has been undertaken by the PineStone each year for the past seven years. Today's PineStone includes about 100 rooms as well as seven detached chalets and eight "fairway villa suites". Eight conference rooms are now offered and the golf course has been expanded to 18 holes.

This Saturday night, the PineStone will begin marking the anniversary by offering its weekly dinner and dance for the reduced rate of $17.00 per person.

Beginning early on Sunday afternoon, the Inn will offer a series of free events for the public. Included are a hotdog lunch, cash bar and corn roast in the evening. Live music will be offered throughout the event and a fireworks display held at dusk.

congregate, flutter and cackle as new arrivals constantly jostle for position. By 10 or 10:30 p.m., the roosts have generally settled down for the night, occasionally peeps will punctuate the silence. Silence, that is, unless a 'critter' (like an ambling raccoon) ascends into the tree; when that occurs, pandemonium erupts.

About one-half to an hour before sunrise, the birds awake with the brightening dawn, and leave for another day.

As winter approaches, the gathering of red-wings coalesce into flocks, pausing en route south at staging-area-marshes to feed.

Starling groups, on the other hand, change their roost sites, often coalescing into huge roosts in towns or near the Great Lakes - where heat abounds. Favoured locations are water towers (where the 'balmy' 10 degree C water radiates heat) or the underside of bridges (which funnel exhaust-warmed air to the highest spots.)

Many people become royally upset. Some are motivated by a psychological dislike of black birds; others by genuine concern for noise and droppings. The reality is that such roosts are difficult to disperse, and actions generally simply bump the roost into someone else's backyard. The best consolation is that these fall roosts tend to be used briefly - and for a more-or-less set period.

Under siege? Take heart - they'll move on shortly.

Editor:

You know, I think it's about time Canadians crawled out of their apathetic state of mind and did something about this country of ours, starting with the mail system which is horrendous.

We would be better off going back to the stage-coach, the amount of time it takes to arrive. It would get here much faster I think and with the outrageous rates we are forced to pay (which no one would mind if we received service for our money), for nothing. There was a time (way back when) when we got two deliveries per day, now we get it 5 days a week, if we're lucky. 34¢ for the lousiest service which the government deigns to dish out (Not the locals.)

Then the question of the aliens. Poor people wait months to be admitted to this country legally while others sneak in in every conceivable way and we accept it. It reminds me of the days when former president Jimmy Carter said in the states, "no way would the Cubans immigrate" but they came by the boatfuls and were accepted. (Wily Castro cleaned out his jails.)

Thank God for Reagan who has strength and means what he says. Brian Mulroney (who I originally thought would be good for us) is just another yes man. Do you really believe in this day of technology we had no way of knowing the Sri Lankans were off our coast?

Don't get me wrong, I sympathize with people's plights, but do we honestly know what they are up to? We could be letting in more terrorists while legitimate people search to find the right way to enter this country legally. We are a strong and powerful country, if we but realize it. For God's sake, wake up and let's assert ourselves for the rights of our people.

Wanted man found in Alberta

A man wanted by the Minden OPP for several offences in the area was recently apprehended by police in Medicine Hat, Alberta. The accused, Andrew Wayne Mallon, was arrested there on a Minden warrant and has been charged with assault causing bodily harm, assault with a weapon and sexual assault. Mr. Mallon was brought back from Medicine Hat by plane on Wednesday by OPP Constables MacMartin and Wood.

Arrested

Darwyn C. Mintz was to appear in Lindsay Court yesterday on a charge of dangerous driving. Mintz was arrested on Monday by the Stayner OPP after a Gooderham man was struck by a vehicle a week earlier.

Collision

Minor injuries were received when two vehicles collided on the Harburn Road on Saturday. Randy Mawbey, age 28, of Tory Hill was northbound at 12:56 p.m. when his vehicle slid on the wet surface, went across the road and collided with a southbound car driven by Janice Pack, age 21, of Oshawa.

No charges were laid.

Charged

John Forsyth, age 61, of Willowdale was charged with impaired driving and failing to report an accident after he drove his car off the Kennisis Lake Road on Saturday. Police report that Mr. Forsyth drove on, despite about $4,000 in damage to his vehicle, and was stopped near Cobocok.

Roll over

A Tory Hill woman was treated for cuts and bruises at Haliburton Hospital on Friday after her car rolled over in a ditch on the Essonville Line. Giacomina Ingrosso, age 31, was charged with careless driving in the accident.

Barmaid threatened by patron with axe

A man, whom onlookers described as crazed, caused a panic in the Dominion Hotel in Minden late Thursday night. Many patrons were forced to flee the bar area after Ralph St. John left the hotel in a huff and returned with a two foot long roofing axe in his hand.

Mr. St. John apparently threatened a barmaid with the axe but was relieved of it by another patron, Danny Terryberry, before he could do any harm. The barmaid, who asked not to be named, said she had seen the culprit on the premises on three or four previous occasions.

The barmaid said she was badly shaken by the ten-minute ordeal. She believes that Mr. St. John's actions were more than the result of drunkenness. "He was a very sick guy, someone you don't want around ever," she said.

According to the Minden OPP, the culprit bought a couple of beers on his first visit to the hotel that night but was unable to pay for them. He left his boots and belt with the hotel as security and left. A few minutes later, he returned with the axe and demanded his possessions back.

Witnesses said that Mr. St. John was calm after being disarmed and he was seen waiting quietly at the rear exit until the police arrived. He was charged with possessing a dangerous weapon and assault with a weapon. He has been released on promise to appear in Provincial Court in Minden on September 10.

The Ontario government provides annual grants of up to $500 per household to offset municipal and school taxes paid by seniors 65 years of age and over who own or rent their homes. This means that, regardless of personal income, the first $500 of a senior's annual property tax, whether paid directly or through rent, is refunded by the Property Tax Grant.

Those who established a claim in previous years or those who reach 65 before July 1986 will receive an application this fall. New pensioners who will become 65 between July and December of this year will receive the application form by early 1987. Seniors not receiving Old Age for other reasons, but have established eligibility for the Tax Grant will also receive an application automatically. Other seniors may obtain a Property Tax Grant by first completing an eligibility application. Proof of age and residency must accompany the application.

The first payment will be paid in a lump sum for the first year and subsequent years it will be paid in two cheques, spring and fall.

Booklets explaining the programme in greater detail are available at the Haliburton County Information Centre in the Drag River Building.

Stanhope received grant

Stanhope Township is to receive $8,984 from the government of Ontario to help pay for an asphalt recreation pad, Tourism and Recreation Minister John Eakins announced last Tuesday.

The grant, one of a series given to local administrations by the Ministry for construction programs, will pay 50 per cent of the total cost for the pad - the amount Stanhope Township had requested. Work on the pad is scheduled to begin after Labour Day.

Council members in Stanhope expect the pad to be ready for next summer. The paved enclosure, 60 feet by 120 feet, will house a tennis court and serve as a rink during the winter. The asphalt surface will provide for faster and easier flooding of the skating rink and extend the skating season.

Kickers compete in soccer play-offs

The Haliburton Dixie Lee soccer team competed in the Muskoka and District play-offs on the weekend.

The 8 teams were divided into 2 groups of 4. The winners of each group played for the championship and the second place teams played for the consolation championship.

On Saturday morning, in Bracebridge, Dixie Lee defeated Parry Sound 2-0. Haliburton opened the scoring ten minutes into the game. An illegal tackle gave Dixie Lee an indirect kick from 15 yards.

The kick was handled by a Parry Sound defender, giving Haliburton a penalty shot. Hans Walter scored. Ten minutes later, an identical series of events gave Dixie Lee another penalty shot and Ivor Thompson scored.

The second half was scoreless. Andrew Shapiera made several outstanding saves to preserve the win.

On Saturday afternoon, Haliburton played to a scoreless tie with Gravenhurst. The defenders dominated the game. The tired players were unable to put together a scoring play. Dixie Lee's best chance was in the second half, when Mike Hatkoski hit the goal post on a breakaway. Shapiera played another strong game in goal.

On Sunday morning, Haliburton played Bracebridge Centennials. Dixie Lee needed a win to gain first place in their division.

Bracebridge struck first on a soft lob against the wind which went over the goalie and into the corner of the net. Haliburton tied the game early in the second half on a pretty passing play. The forwards worked to send in Ivor Thompson alone on the right side. He beat the goalkeeper with a low shot to the left side.

Bracebridge regained the lead ten minutes later. The tall Bracebridge centre forward outjumped the Dixie Lee defenders and goalie and headed the ball into the open net. Bracebridge was able to hang onto the lead, forcing Dixie Lee to settle for second place in their division.

The scene now switched to the German Canadian Club in Baysville for the consolation championship. Haliburton completely overpowered the opposition from Huntsville, winning 6-1.

Joe Mancuzzo opened the scoring for Haliburton by outrunning a Huntsville fullback and blasting the ball by the goalie from close range.

Shawn Chapman made the score 2-0 on a corner kick near the end of the first half. Chapman went high in the air to head the ball by the surprised goalkeeper.

In the second half, the game belonged to Mike Hatkoski. He scored four goals and created more chances with his aggressive speed and powerful shot.

The Huntsville squad was able to respond with one goal, making the final score 6-1 for Dixie Lee and giving the team third place in the standings. This is the best result ever for the team. The next practice will be September 4 at 6:30 in Minden.

High calibre competition at Pan-Am

More than 500 spectators crowded into the Minden Wild Water Preserve over the weekend to watch as some of the world's best kayakers and canoeists competed in the first of three races that make up the Pan-Am Cup. Held in alternate years at rivers across North America, the series is second only to the World Championships.

Though teams from France took most of the top places at the Gull River event, Canada made a respectable showing. Quebec's Patrice Gagnon took second in the men's kayak event (K1), with a time of 219.4 seconds and Ontario two man canoe team (C2) Grant McCaffery and Mark Brown also came second in their class, at 307.5.

First places in the Gull River race went to: Christophe Prigent (France) at 219.0 in men's K1; Franck Adisson and Wilfried Forques (France) in men's C2 at 307.5; Jon Luginbill (USA) in men's C1 at 225.0; and Marie-Fran Grange (France) in women's K1 at 251.4.

For those who just came to see the big race, there was plenty to see and lots of excitement as paddlers shot through shoals and over waterfalls on the demanding one kilometre course. But from the point of view of many who had never seen a kayak race before, there was some doubt as to why a person might want to risk life and limb to compete in such an event.

Rich Weiss from the United States, explained it this way: "It's fun. I guess you could compare kayaking to skiing. You go real fast down some dangerous stuff - but it's not really that risky." Weiss finished third in men's K1.

Franck Pelle of France said his interest in the sport had grown almost into an addiction. "I started doing this about seven years ago. My brother, who had been paddling even longer, asked me if I wanted to try it. So I did, and I found that it was super. I started racing soon after and I loved it so much, I just couldn't stop."

Minden's Wild Water Preserve, all competitors agree, is a world class course. Though shorter and smaller than many kayak rivers, "It's a very technical course," Pelle explained. "The water is so fast and the river is so narrow that it takes a lot just to keep your boat under control."

The next two races in the Pan-Am Cup will be held at the Youghieny River in Pennsylvania and at the Savage River in Maryland.

Dan Theis of the U.S. team rights his craft with an Eskimo roll after overturning at the beginning of the course.

OPP will be on patrol this holiday weekend

The Labour Day holiday weekend marks the close of the summer vacation season and as a result, a high volume of traffic is expected on Ontario roadways leading to and from the cottage country areas.

Ontario Provincial Police

Officers from across the province report a noticeable improvement in the driving behaviour of Ontario's motoring public. Highway deaths on holiday weekends have been drastically reduced.

To remind motorists of their responsibilities, the O.P.P. "Strict Is Fair" traffic enforcement program will again be in full effect.

As impaired driving and excessive speed continue to be the main factors in most fatal accidents, the O.P.P.

will be utilizing their R.I.D.E. program and radar units to reduce traffic accidents and death.

"This summer the Ontario drivers, response to traffic safety initiatives by all police forces in Ontario has been very rewarding," said O.P.P. Commissioner Archie Ferguson.

Commissioner Ferguson expresses his sympathy to those families who have lost loved ones through tragic car accidents and pledges a maximum effort by his officers to minimize any further loss of lives on Ontario's highways.

During the 1985 holiday weekend 10 people were killed in nine fatal traffic accidents on roads patrolled by the O.P.P.

Two more holes-in-one on Highlands courses

Haliburton Highlands golf courses have recorded two more holes-in-one during the past month.

The first occurred August 12 at the Beaverbrook Golf Club in Minden. Bob Alisha of Leamington was the fortunate golfer. He aced the 130 yard number eight hole using an eight iron. The shot was witnessed by Chris Rahm and Betty Leslie, also of Leamington.

The other hole-in-one occurred at the Blairhampton Golf Club on August 21. Bob O'Donnell from Renfrew managed the single shot on the 173 yard third hole. He used a seven iron for the feat. The ace was witnessed by Al O'Donnell. Several weeks ago we reported on another hole-in-one scored at the PineStone Inn and Country Club.

Golfer captures Kawartha trophy

A Minden area golfer captured the low net title in the Kawartha Ladies Invitational Golf Tournament held earlier this month in Peterborough.

Linda Pawluch captured the title in the August 16 event with a score of 67. She went into the tournament with a handicap of 36.

Playing in the fourth flight, Linda also won an award for the longest drive in her flight.

The annual tournament attracted 140 participants to the Kawartha Golf and Country Club.

This past Monday the Minden Rockcliffe Hustlers wound up another successful fastball season by capturing the league championship. This is the fifth year in a row that the team has taken the top honours. Members of the 1986 squad include, from the left, front row, Kevin Smith, Doug Shaw, Rick Hartwick, Brian Shaw, Dave Dollo and Andrew Burk; back row, Barry Shaw, Kevin Hamilton, Dave Hartwick, Colin Newell, Gene Newell, Neil Burk, Jack Snell and Greg Newell.

Hustlers take title for fifth year in a row

The Minden Rockcliffe Hustlers have won their fifth championship in a row by defeating the Bobcaygeon Juniors in the third game of the best three out of five series in three straight games.

At home Monday night, in front of the largest crowd of the year, the Hustlers jumped on the opposition early for four big runs in the first inning and three more in the second, for a seven to nothing lead. From here on they coasted to a 7-3 win as the visitors came back with a run in the third and two more in the fifth.

Brian Shaw was the winning pitcher striking out twelve and allowing only four hits for the win while Rick Hartwick had three hits and Barry Shaw, Jack Snell and Colin Newell all had two hits each for the Hustlers.

The Minden Rockcliffe Hustlers would like to thank all their fan support this year and next year would invite everyone out for a new look Hustlers for the year of 1987.

Thanks again for everything in 1986.

Terry Fox run set for September 14

by Johnston Bailey

Terry Fox believed cancer could be beaten. He attempted to run across Canada to prove it. It was his way of making a dream, a reality. Cancer has not been beaten. Consequently, the Terry Fox Run continues.

This run is not just for runners. Everyone is welcome to walk, jog, run or bike the route in order to help fight this deadly disease.

It is important to participate in this, the sixth annual Terry Fox Run, if Terry's dream is to become reality. Bring along a friend. Make this year's run even more successful than last year's.

Last year the Haliburton Terry Fox Run raised more than $1800 for cancer research. This year the goal is to raise more than $2000. If you are unable to participate and wish to make a donation, pick up a pledge sheet and drop your donation off at the run site during the run or at any chartered bank after the run.

The Haliburton Terry Fox Run will take place on Sunday, September 14 at 2:00 p.m. The location of the start of the run and registration area is the Haliburton dock, near the orange caboose. All runners must complete an entry form at the registration area before starting. The minimum donation for runners without pledges is $5.00. Registration will begin at the dock at 1:30 p.m.

Pledge sheets are available at the following locations: The Haliburton County Echo, the Home Support Drop-In Centre, Haliburton Highlands Secondary School, J. Douglas Hodgson Elementary School in Haliburton, Archie Stouffer Elementary School and The Times in Minden and Carnarvon Building Supplies Ltd. in Carnarvon.

The Governor of Rotary District 701 Arne Schmidt visited with the Minden Rotary Club this past Monday. He paid tribute to the local club's involvement in numerous community projects and applauded local members for their enthusiasm and dedication to the ideals of the service club. Minden president Jack Brezina, right, and Rotary exchange student Sirrannee Tangjrasilp of Thailand share a moment with the District Governor prior to the meeting.

Flower show a hit

The Annual Flower Show which was a tremendous success and which is the highlight of the horticultural year, has come and gone.

We still have flower beds to tend to, the weeds do keep growing and they have to be removed.

Besides flowers, horticulture is also about shrubs, trees, bulbs - and fruit and vegetables. What do we do with the fruit and vegetables we grow?

Mrs. Mary Anne Haromitch, Home Economist of Lindsay will be here in Minden on Tuesday, September 2 to tell us all about preserving, canning and freezing fruit and vegetables. She will be at the Horticultural Meeting on September 2 at 7:30 p.m. So plan on being there for this very useful information. There will be handouts as well.

Once again there will be competitions, namely 'September Song,' 'Autumn' and 'B.Y.O.B.' For more information about these, you may phone 286-1164.

Remember, you don't have to be a member to attend. Everyone is welcome. Light refreshments will be served.

Cancer Society sets '86 target

For the third consecutive year, the Victoria Haliburton Unit of the Canadian Cancer Society has exceeded its annual campaign target.

Fred Copping, campaign manager for the 1986 fund-raising drive, says the goal of $70,000 has been surpassed by almost $2,000. The increase is 13 per cent more than last year.

Copping attributed the increase to the "overwhelming generosity of the people of our two counties" and the effort of more than 400 campaign canvassers and 41 team captains.

The society's annual drive begins each April.

Missing children's registry unveiled

On August 15, 1986, Solicitor General James Kelleher officially unveiled the Missing Children Registry at RCMP Headquarters in Ottawa.

The registry, which began operations July 6th, will be an important tool across Canada in locating and identifying missing children. The computerized registry will file missing children information from police forces across the country, facilitating police investigations and the coordination of information on missing children cases.

"The linking of all police in Canada through the Missing Children Registry is an important element of an effective national response to the problem of missing children," Mr. Kelleher told representatives from the Canadian Association of Chiefs of Police, the RCMP and Child Find.

The Registry will also work with the FBI and Interpol in helping locate children who may have crossed national borders.

The Registry will be linked with an improved missing person computer file at the Canadian Police Information Centre (CPIC) in the RCMP headquarters in Ottawa. Because almost all police departments in Canada are on the CPIC computer net, they can input and search information through existing computer terminals. A second computerized clothing and dental file will be available for search and will also be linked to the CPIC Missing Persons file.

Authorities and private sector groups have been hindered in the development of solutions to the problem of missing children by the lack of concrete information on the dimensions of the problem.

The registry will make it possible to know how many missing children are reported in Canada, and under what circumstances.

The definition of missing children covers a number of circumstances, including those who are abducted by strangers or parents or those who run away from home.

Despite the wide variety of circumstances under which children go missing, they will have something in common, they are all at risk. The registry can play an important role in helping police locate these children.

Missing children is not just a police problem to be solved by police alone. Just as important, we need more public awareness and public help in streetproofing children and in helping find runaways and abducted children. We must take advantage of all the mechanisms at our disposal for public education, research, victim assistance, prevention and community participation to build the kind of society where our children are safe.

Home Support meeting

by Donna Bailey

"We invite you to attend our 6th Annual Meeting of Haliburton County Home Support Services on Friday, September the 19th at the Royal Canadian Legion, Haliburton at 12 noon. The turkey dinner prepared and served by the Ladies Auxiliary of the Haliburton Legion will be at a cost of $5.35 per person. The meeting will commence at 1:30 p.m.

Our guest speaker will be Raymond P. Applebaum, Director, Taylor Place, Don Mills, Ontario, President of the O.A.C.A.O. (Older Adult Centres Association of Ontario).

Dinner reservations are required. Please phone our office at 457-2941 by September the 12th. Plan to attend and bring a friend. Everyone is welcome.

Trent-Severn Waterways

The week beginning August 18 saw the Haliburton Lakes average levels at 72.5% of their maximum levels, 5% above the 10 year average for this time of year. This slight surplus has meant that flows in the major tributaries and rivers have remained above normal also.

With no significant changes in the weather, as far as precipitation goes, the Kawartha Lake levels have remained constant all week. Flows on the Otonabee River were held a little above the normal for this time of year.

Continuing dry weather should dictate some flow reductions in the following week leaving navigation conditions in fine shape leading into Labour Day weekend.

What to do if you don't have your Record of Employment

The Record of Employment (ROE) is the document Unemployment Insurance uses to decide if you can get benefits, what the benefit rate will be and how long you may be able to collect. You need an ROE from each employer you worked for in the past year 52 weeks or since the start date of your last benefit period if it's less than 52 weeks.

But even if you don't have your ROE(s) file your claim anyway. Otherwise you may lose benefits. We can't begin to pay you benefits until we have your Record(s) but we can start to process your claim.

You must try to get your ROE from your employer yourself. But if you can't get it, The Outreach Centre can help you.

So don't delay filing your claim for unemployment insurance while waiting for your Record(s) of Employment.

MNR plans fisheries meeting

The Leslie M. Frost Natural Resources Centre is holding an open house this week to gather public comments on its proposed fisheries management strategies to the year 2000.

The proposals are outlined in a document titled "Background Information and Optional Management Strategies and Tactics". Summaries of this document will be available at the open house.

A wide range of strategies has been identified, and the public is invited to help select preferred options.

"Anyone who wants to learn more about our fisheries management planning proposals, or wants to offer comments or ideas is welcome to drop by our open house", L. M. Frost, Director of the Frost Centre said. "Our fisheries resources are important and the comments of interested individuals are vital if we are to manage these resources properly".

Once the public has commented on these proposals, a draft fisheries management plan will be compiled. Public input on this document will be invited later this year.

The open house will be held at the Frost Centre, on Friday, August 29, 1986, from 10 a.m. to 8 p.m., and on Saturday, August 30, 1986, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

The Frost Centre is located on Highway 35, 14 km south of Dorset, Ontario.

Winners at the Shuffleboard Euchre games at the Library Centre last Thursday afternoon were lone hands (on a cut) Don Sinclair and Ida Holmes, Norma Cook, Joe Dollo and Flo Dollo (man's). This is the last week for these games, so come on out.

Best wishes for a complete recovery go out to Grace Earle who has been transferred from St. Joseph's Hospital in Peterborough to Room 390 at Princess Margaret Hospital in Toronto for treatment.

Sincere good wishes also to Norma Davies who is presently undergoing tests in Wellesley Hospital in Toronto. Good luck, hope to see you home and feeling much better very soon.

There was another good turnout for the weekly tournament of the Shuffleboard Club. Wanda Anthes and her partner won the main event while Eddie Sedgewick and Bob Cook won the Consolation. The weather was perfect and if it continues to co-operate, play should carry on well into the Fall. Members should come and bring a guest.

Correction: Brenda and Tim Carroll were guests with her parents Jenny and Harry Austen of Brady Lake.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Lester of Puerto Rico and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Thorpe of Brampton were visitors with Mr. and Mrs. Earl Hewitt.

Jeanne and Milton Sears enjoyed a weekend at Oshawa with the Glen Sears and also at the family picnic at Earl Rowe Provincial Park on Sunday.

Here I come again folks! Sunday evening Church Service was conducted by Rev. J. Burgess, assisted by Mr. and Mrs. Thompson. The Thompsons will be away for some time. Tuesday morning service was taken by Rev. Phillips of Haliburton.

The movies Monday evening were Run, Apaloo-sa, Run. There were two parts which were very nice.

Thursday at Fun and Fitness Charlie Brohm was the winner in the Sink the Ball game. Ninety was the high score.

Thursday afternoon the Boshkung Ladies brought the Tea Party. After a delicious lunch, Doris & Linda supplied nice music on organ and piano. The visiting ladies sang which was very enjoyable. We hope they will come again.

Annie Cox had her grandson Ivan and his wife in to see her one evening.

Edna Cowan with Mary Cowan were out Friday afternoon and had dinner at Lavern's.

Friday evening we had Gordon Houghton and his two little girls to play and sing. We liked them a lot and hope they will be here often.

On Friday Doris and Linda took a full bus load of folks from Hyland Crest for a ride north, had a picnic lunch at Huntsville. All reported a nice time.

I had my sister Cora (Mrs. Upton) of Bracebridge and her son Jim of Powasson to visit with me Saturday afternoon.

Visitors are sure appreciated around here.

Donald Brohm with his wife and two children came to see his father Charlie Brohm Friday evening and his son Mervin came in Sunday.

Today, many people know about Kubota mid-size tractors. But few are aware that Kubota's roots date back to 1890. Since then, Kubota has grown to be one of the largest manufacturers of agricultural equipment in the world. Kubota is now in its second decade of selling diesel-powered tractors in America. With dealers coast to coast, Kubota has become a well-established name, synonymous with economy, dependability and durability. Some other manufacturers have only recently entered the mid-size market, and they have done so by putting their names on tractors built by other companies. You can rest assured, however, that all Kubota tractors are designed and built by Kubota to its own exacting standards of quality. Kubota offers the most complete line of mid-size tractors in the world. Nearly a century of expertise stands behind them. Come see our tractors and find out what that kind of experience means.
